Partney trying to halt board interviews

By Bill Milligan

GRANITE CITY — Former school board President David Partney seeks to halt interviews between the Granite City School Board and seven candidates for four elementary school vacancies.

After a five-hour executive session, board members at around 1:45 a.m. Wednesday morning voted 6-1 to hold a second round of interviews.

The second round follows interviews and recommendations made by a committee of district teachers and administrators, which the board did not accept. The jobs will be available upon the retirement of principals at Wilson, Maryville, Webster and Parkview schools.

"Because the point spread was fairly narrow between the first four and the second three candidates, we have decided to conduct a second round of interviews," said Dewey Melton, president.

Partney voted against interviews scheduled for 8 a.m. Saturday, claiming they violate established board procedures for appointing new principals.

He cited board policies established in 1979 and procedures developed in January to support claims that the board is attempting to undermine the selection process.

Partney said Superintendent Max Redmond made recommendations to replace the four retiring principals. The school board should follow the recommendations and not introduce three additional candidates, Partney said.

A policy adopted Dec. 18, 1979 states: "All candidates for employment with Community Unit School District No. 9 will be recommended to the Board of Education by the superintendent..."

Partney said three board members agreed with Redmond's recommendations; one less than the needed majority.

"We're at the point where the superintendent has made his recommendations," Partney said. "If adopted, no one could have accused us of playing politics."

A Jan. 3 board memo outlined a 10-step procedure for filling the four elementary principal vacancies and two administrative posts.

Vehicle stickers on sale

GRANITE CITY — City vehicle stickers are now available, according to City Clerk Robert Stevens.

The cost of the stickers is $5 for cars and $8 for motorcycles.

Stickers for trucks are based on vehicle weight. Truck, van and motor home owners must show registration cards.

STICKERS for senior citizens are $1 for one-sticker per vehicle, per family. Seniors must bring their registration card and driver license to the Granite City Township Hall to receive a discount.

Disabled persons may purchase an auto sticker for $1 at the city clerk's office, limited to one sticker per family. A driver license and proof of disability are required for the reduced price.

Prices for the stickers will increase May 15 to $10 for cars and $8 for motorcycles. Increases for truck sticker prices will be according to a graduated scale.

CITY STICKERS are available at the following locations: City clerk's office in the City Hall at 2060 Edison Ave.

First National Bank at 20th Street and Edison Avenue and at the Bellemore Village Shopping Center location.

Central Bank at 1909 Edison Ave. and at 24th Street and Madison Avenue.

American Heritage Bank at Nameoki and Fehling roads. Colonial Bank at Pontoon and Maryville roads.

STICKERS will be available for senior citizens only at the township hall, 2060 Delmar Ave.

COLORFUL MACAW. James and Diane Lee's handsome Macaw, Kim, is back home after a six-hour outdoor excursion Monday in Mitchell. Rewarded with her favorite food, ice cream, and a soda, she appeared none the worse for her brief escape to freedom.

Return to captivity has rewards — ice cream

By Valerie Evenden

Staff writer
"She was up there in the tree having a ball, chewing on sticks and leaves. When we finally got her home, we fed her ice cream and she loves ice cream."

This wasn't the usual helpless pet kitten stuck in a 50-foot tree that needed rescuing, Diane Lee explained. This was an ice cream eating, soda drinking macaw.

BRILLIANT PLUMAGE and a three-foot wing span make Kim the macaw highly visible and she wasn't difficult to spot after she flew the family coop Monday.

Kim was sitting on her new-found perch high above the ground, acting quite content.

She seemed oblivious to the entreaties of her owners, James and Diane Lee, who pleaded with her to come down.

THIS MACAW doesn't even know she is a bird, one surmise upon listening to her owners.

"She's been outdoors for walks with my wife before, but only after her wings have been clipped," Lee said. Clipping Kim's green, red and blue wings is a periodic grooming procedure that hasn't yet been done this spring.

"Diane was standing near the open sliding glass doors with Kim on her shoulder when one of the chickens jumped up, startling Diane and spooking the bird, and away she went," Lee said.

Murdered St. Louis man found floating in canal

By Bill Bagby

Staff writer
The body of a St. Louis man murdered here in December was found Saturday.

The body of Clifford D. Potts was found in the Chain of Rocks Canal about a half-mile north of the Interstate 270 canal bridge, said Lt. Dennis Fischer, chief of detectives of the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

AUTHORITIES RESPONDED after a tugboat crew reported seeing a body floating in the middle of the canal at 10:25 a.m. Saturday, he said. The vessel was the Sherry K. Mays.

The body was identified as Mr. Potts Monday by his fingerprints, Fischer added.

An autopsy was performed Saturday. The cause of death has not been determined, pending a coroner's inquest, said Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell.

Mizell said the inquest is to be held within three or four weeks, after laboratory test results are received.

MR. POTTS, 50, who lived at 4908 Fairview in south St. Louis, was murdered on the night of Dec. 30 at the canal and his body was dumped into the water.

Warfield elected chairman

By Bill Bagby

GRANITE CITY — Madison County Democratic Central Committee Chairman Mac Warfield won re-election after the first ballot Monday night at the party's convention in Edwardsville.

Warfield, who is the city's superintendent of streets, faced opposition from Mayor Von Dee Cruse, who defeated Warfield in the Granite City mayoral race a year ago. He also faced several "favorite son" candidates, including Mayor Mike Sasysk of Madison.

COMMITTEEMEN began switching their support to Warfield when it was apparent he had the strength to win, sources said. He was elected by acclamation before a second roll call was held.

"We're real pleased in the vote we got," Warfield said.

"We got it on the first round and I didn't know if we were going to do that or not."

THOUGH OPPOSED by Cruse, Warfield said he is still on good terms with the mayor.

"It's something we both wanted to do and we did it," Warfield said. "We've got to forget it and go on."

He added that his goal now is to keep the party united.

"THE PARTY has problems with the state ticket," he said. "We want to unite the party and work together to win in November."

Supporters of Warfield are also pleased with the outcome of the election.

"I'm overjoyed," said Granite City precinct 32 committeeman Judy Whitaker. "I believe we're off to a new start."

"I THINK there was some political wheeling and dealing going on for two weeks to go against Mac," said Granite City precinct 34 committeeman Mike Modrusick, "but it didn't work."

"It was tremendous," said Granite City precinct 9 committeeman Lloyd Bailey. "It was no race when you win on the first go-around."

"WON BIG, real big," said Granite City precinct 20 committeeman Sharon Perjak.

Though he was defeated, Cruse said he, like Warfield, is concerned with party unity.

"I wish Mac all the success in the world," Cruse said. "We've got a tremendous challenge ahead of us in the Democratic party with the 'LaRouchites'."

LaRouchite resolution target

By Jack C. Ventimiglia

Executive editor

Democrats are being creative with ways to disassociate themselves from the party's black sheep. Lyndon LaRouche-supporter Mark Fairchild, who shocked mainline Democrats by winning the primary race for lieutenant governor, was the target of a resolution passed at the Democratic Party Central Committee meeting Monday.

Either eliminate the lieutenant governor's post or don't fund it, said Helen Hawkins, the measure's author and Nameoki's Precinct 5 committeeman.

It would be easiest not to fund it, she said, because the job is part of the Illinois Constitution.

The county's General Assembly members will be asked to act on the resolution.

"There are two things the General Assembly can do — get rid of it or make it a meaningful function," Hawkins said.

The resolution resulted from having Fairchild representing the party, she said.

Just see what I'm doing as an answer to part of the problem of the LaRouche people," she said.

The resolution will also be presented at the state party's convention by Granite City Alderwoman Sharon Perjak, 21st District representative for the Democratic State Central Committee. She backs the proposal, but has little hope for it.

"I think, basically, it's too late," she said. "There's no way to get rid of the office by November."

The Illinois Blue Book states the lieutenant governor's job is to fill in for the governor if the post is vacant. A legislative act allows him to chair the Abandoned Mined Lands Reclamation Council. He is paid $45,500 per year.

THE PARTY also split the central committee post of secretary-treasurer into two jobs. State Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City, decided to step down after holding the position for 16 years. Wolf was elected as a lifetime member of the party's executive committee.

The committeemen elected Ed Williams of Glen Carbon as secretary and Dan Donohoo of Wood River as treasurer.

The party's three vice chairmen, Ed Vourmad of Alton, Robert Stille of Edwardsville, and William Rekowski of Collinsville, were re-elected.

The party also approved a resolution, introduced by Nameoki precinct 5 committeeman Hawk, favoring abolition of the office of lieutenant governor.

"This was done to encourage Adali (Stevenson) to stay on the ticket," said Bill Haine, convention parliamentarian.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS also held their convention Monday night, electing J. Thomas Long, a Godfrey lawyer, as their new chairman replacing Edward Ragsdale, who was elected as 21st Congressional District Republican state central committeeman in the March 5 election.

Dr. Ragsdale was chosen as the county party's first vice chairman.

The Republican convention was open to the public, but the Democrats held their convention behind closed doors.

"It's never been open since I've been there," Warfield said. "I guess that's the difference between the Democrats and the Republicans."

Charles A. Thompson, 27, of Madison pleaded guilty and was sentenced in January to 25 years in prison for Mr. Potts' murder, even though the body had not been found at that time. His concurrent sentences are 25 years for armed robbery and seven years for arson.

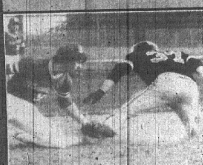

Pamela J. Wiley, 22, of Kirkpatrick Homes was lodged in the Madison County jail in lieu of

POLICE ALLEGED Wiley and Thompson robbed Mr. Potts Dec. 30 in Madison and then took him to the canal, where he was killed by being struck with one of the large rocks lining the canal bank.

They allegedly took Mr. Potts' car to Granite City after the murder and attempted to burn it.

Eagle Park cleanup drive starts Friday

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Plans for the annual spring cleanup drive in Eagle Park were announced Tuesday by Ed Salmond, president of the Eagle Park Action Committee.

The unincorporated community, south of Madison, is getting a head start on the Quad-City Area's cleanup campaign, slated to get under way April 26.

Salmond said the Eagle Park program will continue each Friday and Saturday throughout April and May.

Senior residents will get special help during the campaign, he said. "Volunteer workers will help clean up debris and trash from their property or carry any heavy items they want to discard to the truck," Salmond said.

Other residents are being asked to place unwanted items and debris they want hauled away at the front of their property, if possible.

Permission is being obtained from the owners of vacant lots, which also will be cleared of unsightly trash and debris.

"We also will be cutting down high weeds," the president said. Young people will make up most of the volunteer work crew and can now register to help by calling the Eagle Park Fire Station at 876-8983.

Donated refreshments also are being sought for the volunteer workers.

Further information about the cleanup program may be obtained by calling the same number, Salmond said.

Central Bank of Granite City

Q. With the different money institutions cropping up, why should I go with a bank, rather than one of the others?

A. To begin with, the banking industry has a long history of service to its depositors and to its community. In the early days of banking, a "money house" consisted of little more than a teller's cage, a set of ledgers and a safe. Banks began as small houses which have grown large enough to offer you the myriad of financial services so many people need, yet still remain small enough to take a personal interest in your needs. When you open an account with a bank, you get a lot more than an account number. You get a personal financial specialist. Our officers and employees are specially trained to help you choose the right services to meet your special financial needs — from personalized checks to special-earning accounts. Ask any of our officers about the services which make our bank one that can serve everybody. Ask them how the bank can help you make money, or save money, or stretch what money you have.

Board member faces charges

Madison County Board member Charles R. Burns, D-Edwardsville, was released from a Michigan jail after his arrest on charges of drunken driving and carrying a concealed weapon.

Burns, 33, of Rural Route 3, Edwardsville, was released Saturday afternoon, March 29, after posting a $5,000 bond. He was arrested in Monroe County, Mich., at 2:15 a.m. that day after he was seen driving erratically, the Monroe County Sheriff's Department alleged.

Burns was charged with operating a vehicle under the influence of liquor and carrying a concealed gun, a 380 automatic handgun found cocked in his glove compartment, the sheriff's department said.

A report on the arrest said a "white, powdery substance" was found in Burns' possession. Also found in the glove compartment was a cigarette, the report said.

The sheriff's department said Burns was driving a 1979 Datsun and was alone. He drove off the shoulder of the road twice and crossed the center line three times, the spokesman contended.

Burns failed a field sobriety and alphabet test at the scene and refused to take a breath test there, the department alleged. He took the test at the sheriff's department, where 0.10 percent was recorded.

Legal proof of intoxication in Michigan and Illinois is 0.10 percent.

Burns was elected to the board in 1982.

An attorney, he was the only County Board member to lose his seat in the Democratic primary in March.

He lost the District 11 nomination to Donald Myers, also of rural Edwardsville. Myers won by almost a 2-1 margin and will face a Republican contender in November.

Burns' law practice is in Edwardsville. In February, Burns announced he would challenge the constitutionality of the Illinois DUI (driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs) law through an appeal of a client's conviction.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED Attorney At Law

Many people who purchased their homes several years ago were saddled with mortgage rates in excess of 12%. Recently interest rates have dropped dramatically, and some individuals are now in the process of refinancing their homes. Most lending institutions in this area are now willing to give borrowers fixed rate mortgages over a 15 year period of time. When a person attempts to refinance his home, he will need to fill out a new application with the lender. In addition, the borrower will have to have one appraisal on the home as well as a new title search. The applicant will also have to provide new evidence of a good credit standing as well as a new financial statement.

All of these new requirements will wind up costing the borrower money up front. In addition, most lenders will want at least one point, sometimes two or three points to prepay a loan. A point is the equivalent of 1% of the amount borrowed. Therefore, if the borrower is refinancing $70,000, it could wind up costing several thousand dollars to refinance the loan.

The question that is ultimately asked in cases such as this is whether or not it is worth the time and cost to refinance one's home. One consideration would be how long the homeowner plans to remain in the home. If one plans to stay there for a short time, it would probably not be worth the additional cost to refinance the dwelling. If the borrower intends to remain there for a substantial period of time, however, the additional savings by refinancing could be substantial.

It should be noted that a lender will quote the homeowner a given rate with a specified amount of points to refinance. This will often lock in that rate for that particular person. The interest rates and the amount of points quoted by the lender may go up and down during the period of the loan application. In one recent case, the borrower was quoted 11% with one point to refinance. When the loan application was pending, interest rates dropped to 10% with 3 points. This new rate would not be available to the homeowner while his application was still pending. The lender indicated he would have to submit a new application in order to take advantage of the lower interest rates.

Accept recommendations

Dave Partney continues to act as the Granite City School Board's version of Deep Throat.

He came out after the closed session on Tuesday night/Wednesday morning with comments about recommendations made by a committee of teachers. Out of 15 applicants, the committee recommended four they thought would be good assistant principals, he said.

District administrators worked long to determine criteria. The committee questioned and scored candidates, working until they came up with selections they believed in. Superintendent Max Redmond concurred with all choices. All this Partney told us, and more.

He and two other board members favored the recommendations, but several board members began questioning the criteria used to determine finalists.

Everyone should know the school board has a right to pitch everything the committee did. And if a board member doubts the competence of any candidate, as a responsible public representative he must say so.

But questions about testing criteria should have been raised during the instrument's development, not after. And questions about individuals should have come during the interviewing process that Partney said all board members were allowed to attend.

To do less decreases the value of having a committee. The committee did the work, their work was picked apart and the board will go in and finish the job, Partney said.

If someone outside of the four recommended finalists is chosen, the board ought to be able to provide irrefutable justification to the committee. Otherwise, word will get out that teachers shouldn't work on board committees because, in the end, the board will hear only what it wants to hear.

Board members who have reservations about the recommendations should, themselves, have conducted the interviews and saved everyone the agony of another tortuous, long-winded executive session that has the public wondering what kind of public representation they're getting. Persons with special insights should have brought them out long before now.

Fortunately, Partney said the board is not far from an agreement on the final four.

If that's the case, why split hairs?

We believe the board should accept the recommendations of the committee and Redmond. The move would show the board is providing more than lip service when it says it appreciates the work that went into the selection process.

Delay of trials blocks justice

An unusual resolution was adopted at one of the Madison County political party conventions Monday night. It called for prompt trial of James W. Barton, former county assessment supervisor, and five other defendants in an alleged assessment reduction scheme.

He also is awaiting trial on an unrelated bribery charge; later assessment changes supposedly were planned to raise funds to defend Barton against the initial allegation.

The resolution urged that the trial be conducted by an out-of-county judge. This might be the way to break the logjam delaying the proceedings, but we also would settle for the trials to be held by the judges now assigned to them, if they can somehow get on with it.

We are not in a position to judge precisely who is at fault for the seemingly endless passage of time. To say that the controversy is complex would be an understatement.

Many of the present Third Circuit judges and associate judges have played a role at different times, as have State's Attorney Dick Allen, former State's Attorney Don Weber, grand jurors, numerous lawyers, the defendants, the Illinois Supreme Court, an Adams County circuit judge and the latter judge's selection as the special prosecutor, Sangamon County Public Defender Bruce Locher.

There has been an intricate series of allegations and counter-allegations, complete with myriad motions and even some civil litigation. For all of this to be fully untangled may consume much more time, and a switch in the presiding judges might cause even further delay.

There may be no easy solution. Much name-calling has occurred, and some of the participants have gotten into the habit of strongly defending themselves at each hearing, while categorizing their critics as wrong and even deviant.

Nearly everyone who is a party to the case is stressing his or her desire for expeditious handling. But the moves many are making in the cause of fairness or clarity nevertheless serve to bring about further delays.

Somewhere once said that justice delayed is justice denied, and that is the point we would like to make.

One of the cases dates back to 1982 and the other to 1984. This is 1986, with summer court vacations fast approaching. When will the trials be held?

Closed-door politics prevailing

News stories about the Madison County Central Committee meeting are second-hand.

They have to be. The Democrats closed their meeting. Reporters who covered the story couldn't go into the room where it was held. They had to rely on sources to relate what occurred. The public got its news third-hand.

The Madison County Democratic Party has had problems demonstrating public support, as evidenced by the LaFouche LaFouche-up that allowed two unknown radicals to win the party's nomination to state offices. In addition, two of the three candidates backed by the Madison County Central Committee lost. All of which might make it seem to outsiders that it's a little bit awkward to be associated with the party right now.

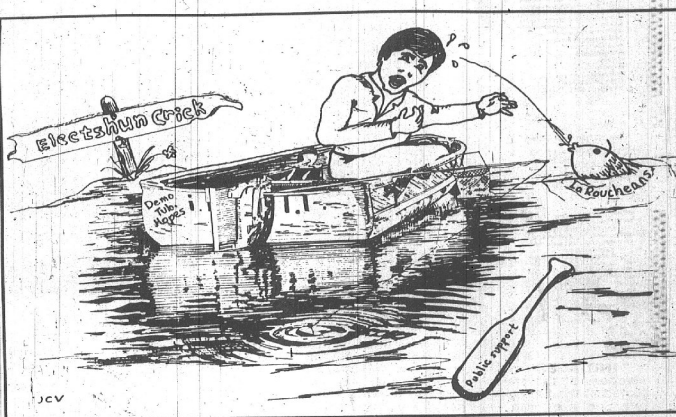

Outsiders, by which we mean persons with no declared political party preference, are becoming increasingly important in deciding elections. That's why we think the party missed an opportunity.

Instead of holding an open meeting where the press could go in and report what was happening, the party followed the same path it took when its ill-fated county endorsements were made — they closed the meeting.

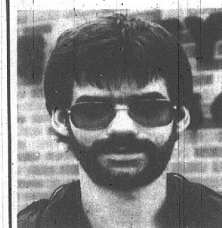

The move is perfectly legitimate for a private body, but leaks, secondary sources and misinformation come out of closed meetings. And there's the natural dislike the public has for meetings held behind locked doors. The party apparently didn't consider such matters worthy of attention and perhaps they really aren't.

They were found to have merit, however, on the Republican side of the hall. Hanging on the doorway to the Republican Central Committee meeting was a sign welcoming everyone.

Maybe that doesn't count for much in Madison County, where the people are strongly bred in the tradition of following the Democratic Party line. But when the independents stand in the voting booth, one has to wonder which party is going to be remembered — and for what reason.

Readers react

Gary Beal, Granite City

"I think they'll do it. I think we have a good group of Democrats in office now, especially in Granite City. (On the governor's race) I don't think the Democratic Party will come through and will take charge."

Gene Hall, Granite City

"I think they may have already taken the steps to do that. Anyone paying attention won't vote for the LaRouche candidates. I won't. It could hurt (Adlai) Stevenson (in the governor's race) and, as a result, hurt the party."

Michael Reagan, Granite City

"I'm sure they will. I hope. One can always hope. No, I don't believe it will (affect the outcome of the governor's race). I think (Gov. Jim) Thompson will win his fourth term."

Will Democrats endure?

Will the Democratic Party in Illinois be able to overcome having two right-wing extremists on its ballot for the November general election? And will this affect the outcome of the governor's race?

Are equal jobs really equal?

Will the idea of "comparable worth" gain acceptance? Partly conflicting answers are being given in the states of Washington and Illinois. The basic CW idea is that one line of work is intrinsically as valuable to society as many others (but not all occupations).

Views of the logic or illogic of rating a number of jobs as equal, however, seem to differ as widely as the take-home pay of ditch diggers and rock music stars. Do we need truck drivers more than computer programmers? Should the law of supply and demand be allowed to decide?

Under a negotiated settlement between Washington State and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, almost 35,000 state employees in female-dominated jobs will get "comparable worth" pay raises this month. The $101 million salary package concludes a decade-long effort by the union and its Washington affiliate to "correct sex-based wage discrimination." It is the largest comparable-worth settlement in history.

Pay equity studies found that many of the workers dominated jobs regarded (by those doing the studies) as of equal value to the state.

Although most people feel there should not be pay differentials based on sex, there is a major opposition to "comparable worth" by persons who say government might start making arbitrary rulings about which crafts, skills, effort and responsibility are equal to other lines of work.

The U.S. District Court of Appeals in Chicago has just reinstated a complaint filed by the American Nurses' Association against Illinois for allegedly holding down the wages of nurses and other health care workers in female-dominated job categories in violation of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Reversing a district court decision dismissing the suit, the court said plaintiffs must prove a wage disparity between male and female state employees is the result of intentional sex discrimination. However, the court also said the ANA has failed to state an adequate claim under the Act because its complaint rests on the theory of comparable worth.

The federal judges in this state reject the contention that a state must remove wage disparities between employees, even though one job evaluation study found the government of Illinois pays its women employees 6,000 less, on average, than it pays men employees.

In return for its negotiated victory in Washington, AFSCME is preparing to withdraw its lawsuit in a manner that will forfeit its right to sue the state at any future date over the same issue. Interestingly, a three-judge panel of the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled in Washington's favor, declaring it was not obligated to end economic inequality if it did not reinstate, but the governor and legislature proceeded with the talks leading to the agreement.

Judges appear to be taking a similar stand in Illinois, even though ordering the nurses' complaint reinstated. But such findings appear certain to face new challenges during the 1980s.

Says a war could follow trade war

To the editor:

Japan's principal business with the world is commerce, not war or politics.

Japanese foreign trade became global after it broke out of the area with the Greater East Asia Co-Prosperity Sphere of the 1930s. In the mid-'60s Japan began to generate surplus in its trade with the U.S.

By 1978, more than half of America's worldwide trade imbalance was attributed to Japan; the annual deficit of $12 billion equaled over half the total $17 billion deficit.

Japan has been America's chief trading partner in Asia since 1980 and is now America's chief ally and associate outside of the European community.

Japan's postwar success was not founded on cheap labor, unfair foreign trade practices or imitation of others. Energy and effort, which previously sought expression in military muscle and empire building, has been focused on the economy.

During the Iranian hostage crisis, Japan's trading company purchases of oil from Iran were viewed as a threat to America. The Japanese resented American insensitivity to their lack of energy resources and to their need to salvage something from their multi-billion-dollar petrochemical investment complex lying 85 percent completed at Dandar Khomeini.

The major issue between the U.S. and Japan will not be the trade deficit, since the quality of American products has deteriorated. The major issue in the next decade will deal with Japan's right to acquire nuclear weapons.

If China reaches agreement with Japan, a Sino-Japanese alliance could end in domination of the rest of the world. But there is little possibility of Japan cooperating with Soviet Russia.

Under Article Nine of the Japanese Constitution, Japan would not use war as an instrument of policy to solve international disputes. But this doesn't mean Japan cannot have a defensive force.

The United Nations Charter rules that every nation is entitled to the right of self-defense. The 1960 Bilateral Treaty was renewed by the U.S., declaring that if Japan is attacked by a third party, the U.S. must defend Japan. But if the U.S. is attacked by a third party, Japan is not obliged to defend the U.S.

The U.S. does not want to see Japan go nuclear. But if Japan is to have a self-defense force, it must acquire weapons of all kinds.

The Japanese are saying that purchases of American technology are costing them large amounts of hard-earned money and that their technology is just as good, if not better.

Fifty years ago, General Hugh Johnson said, "All wars at arms are merely extensions of preceding wars of commerce, grow fiercer until the weapons of commerce seem no longer sufficiently deadly."

Blood drive Apr. 10

"The greatest gift a person can give is the gift of life," said Ted Ellerman, president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center. "Donating blood is a very personal thing. It is gratifying knowing you have helped others by giving of yourself."

On Thursday, April 10, SEMC associates (employees) and members of the community will have a chance to participate in just such an endeavor — the 1986 Spring blood drive.

Sponsored by SEMC and the American Red Cross, the blood drive will be held in Pascal Hall at SEMC from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Prospective donors must be healthy persons 17 years of age or older. Donors over 60 years of age need a recent health statement from their physician. Blood may be donated every eight weeks, and donors need to know their blood type.

For information, Pat Davis, R.N., can be called at 798-3028.

THE DALTON GANG, a southern gospel trio, will perform on Saturday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m. at Calvary Pentecostal Assembly, 4650 Maryville Road. They were featured at the National Quartet Convention in 1985 for their song, "I'll Make It Home," according to the Rev. Harold Maynard, host pastor.

Township saves $400

By Carol Patterson

Savings of $400 will be made in the change of auditors this year in Chouteau Township.

At Monday night's board meeting, a motion was approved by a three to one vote to grant a one-year contract to the firm of Croxford, Donohoo & Co. to prepare the township audit.

The new auditors will cost the township $2,200, as compared to $2,600 charged by the previous accounting firm, R.C. Scheffel & Co. After investigating the new company's record of performance, Supervisor Morris Miles reported to the board that in Wood River and other townships, Donohoo has done satisfactory work.

"I don't think you're going to get much lower than $2,200," said board member Robert Leckrone. He added, "Four hundred dollars would buy a lot of something."

The board voted to secure estimates to expand the assessor's office. Assessor David Clements requested that the 8x18-foot room be enlarged to 16x18 feet.

"I've got a broom closet as it is," Clements said. After examining the office and discussing the cost of labor, wiring and other materials involved, Highway Commissioner Joseph Stefanoff said, "I'll bet you it'll cost five grand. You'll have to tear up the wiring."

Miles disagreed and bet Stefanoff a beer that it would cost less than $1,000 to enlarge the office.

Kane new director of transit in county

Jerry Kane was named director of the Madison County Transit District March 27.

He will act as managing director of the district, replacing Rudy Johnson, whose resignation from the post became effective earlier last month.

The resolution approved by the board specifically noted that it is "in the public interest that the district acquire managerial services in a cost-effective manner."

It included an addendum that Kane, as an employee of the Agency for Community Transit (ACT), will be prohibited from having any financial interest in any contract of the district other than his own employment agreement.

The addendum also states that Kane's duties as managing director specifically exclude any contractual negotiations on behalf of the transit district with respect to the Agency for Community Transit.

The board approved a resolution which modifies a contract with Executive Services Inc. for continuing coordination, planning, liaison and production services which will increase the maximum number of hours from 1,500 to 1,750, for the period of July 1, 1985 (start of the contract) through June 30, 1986.

Payment for the contracted services will increase from $48,000 to a $56,750 maximum.

In other action, the board: Approved an agreement with the Pantoon Beach Water District to extend a water main to serve the transit district's new ACT facility, north of I-270 at Illinois 111.

Agreed to support the Madison County Board's grant application for Section 18 funds, on behalf of residents of the county (and the transit district) who are presently not receiving transit service.

Approved a request to Bi-State to provide Muny Opera bus service to Madison County residents of the transit district for the 1986 summer opera season.

The board heard several reports, including one from Kane that ACT is now operating two Granite City bus routes formerly operated by the Bi-State Transit System, using two vehicles for routes which were formerly served by four vehicles.

The residence of Jesse and Frances Thomas at 1120 Douglas St., Venice, was burglarized and apparently set on fire about 7 p.m. March 23.

Venice firefighters remained at the scene more than five hours and Chief Willie Dumas asked the Madison County Arson Response Team to investigate.

The interior of the one-story frame dwelling was destroyed. Authorities believe someone poured several gallons of gasoline inside the house before the fire occurred.

Several containers were located throughout the dwelling, as if dropped to the floor when empty. A rear door had been pried open.

Stolen were a shotgun, a .22 caliber revolver, a television, jewelry items and assorted clothing.

The county arson investigators had not yet submitted a report to the Venice Police Department, a spokesman said Friday.

Getting out of the squad cars, the officers began yelling, "Don't do that."

Brown allegedly had his hand raised and refused to obey police orders. He was struck once with a nightstick and pulled off the boy, authorities said.

The victim, 13, alleged Brown had threatened him and two friends about their part in an earlier incident on his property. The two friends ran toward a house while Brown made the 13-year-old kneel on the ground.

The boy said Brown did not hit him, and tried to stick the knife into the ground. "It wouldn't stick," the victim told police.

Brown was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was examined before being confined at the Venice City Jail.

He also was served a Madison County warrant alleging failure to pay a fine. He was released on $300 cash bail.

4 INJURED AS 2 AUTOS COLLIDE ON ILLINOIS

Four out-of-town residents were severely injured when their cars collided at 7:46 p.m. March 31 at Illinois 3 and W. Pontion Road.

Mary Graham, 26, and her passenger, Lisa Graham, 27, both of Moro, were northbound on 3 when their auto collided with an eastbound car driven by David Kohlenberger, 17, of Edwardsville. He is said to have stopped and then drove through the intersection, thinking Graham also had to stop for traffic.

Kohlenberger's passenger, Scott Bianco, 16, of Edwardsville, and the Grahams were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Kohlenberger was charged by police with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Beavin's passenger, Larry J. Richey, 19, was charged with illegal possession of alcohol and was released on $52 bail.

hard and fast in my life," Diane said.

"We ran after her, hollering, and then called everybody and his brother to find a way to get her down," her husband added.

The Lees live on Paradise Lane in Mitchell. They first called the department and then the county humane officer. Neither was able to help retrieve the bird.

"Madison County police were cooperative and tried to help me. They called around, trying to find someone with a bucket truck," Lee said.

St. Louis 200 people were sympathetic and offered a few suggestions for enticing Kim back to earth, including offering one of her favorite foods — peanuts.

Nothing worked, however, until Gary Ellis, a friend who works with James Lee at Granite City Steel, learned of the couple's dilemma.

Ellis contacted another friend, Dale Dickey, owner of the Dickey Signs and Graphics business. "HE BROUGHT his basket truck over and I got inside the basket and went up the tree. I stuck out my arm and Kim climbed on, and then moved onto my shoulder."

"Because of the motion, I held her tightly with both hands until we reached the ground," Lee said. "Thanks to a couple of concerned people we got her back and we very much appreciate their efforts."

KIM'S OUTDOOR adventure lasted six hours. The macaw is valued at more than $1,000, but she isn't as valuable as she is to the Lees. She is part of the family.

Macaws are not docile creatures. They are noisy and they bite when scared. "I was very wild when the Lees got her four years ago, but she has since learned to talk, in fact, just as fast as I do," Lee said. "She also drinks water and soda from a cup which she holds in her claw and gives back when it is empty."

Two birds screams "walk, walk" when she wants to go outside and appears content afterward when she is returned to her large dome-top cage, James Lee said.

Kim also says "hello, peanuts, water" and "good girl." "Most of the time, she has complete freedom of the Lee home and sits on a perch outside the cage."

The brilliant-hued bird is banded around the leg. By checking the quarantine number with officials, the Lees learned she came from Bolivia, South America, about seven years ago.

A MACAW'S usual diet is nuts, seeds and fruit. "They live about 65 years in the wild and could probably live 80 years in captivity. Some reports say up to 100 years," James said.

Kim obviously isn't a normal macaw. She weighs about six pounds and likes steak, roast beef, ice cream and soda pop.

Her favorite beverage is Mountain Dew. "She loves it," Diane said. "The macaw also loves cooked chicken."

Maybe the chicken which flew at Diane and startled Kim, sending her flying down the street on Monday, had gotten the word through the "old bird network."

"Everyone on the board is trying to staff these positions for the next 10-20 years," said Melton. "When we look at something of that magnitude, we should approach it in a deliberate manner."

Redmond's committee concluded four applicants appeared to be above average. Partney said, Redmond made them his final recommendations.

The committee designed questions for applicants and listed pertinent responses. Applicants' responses were graded on points, similar to the system used in figure skating events. The committee threw out the high and low scores, then added the remaining five scorers' figures to yield an average used for the overall point evaluation.

"The superintendent has made recommendations to fill these positions," Partney said. "I'm satisfied with them."

Several board members questioned the objectivity and criteria used by the committee. "If the committee's recommendations are not followed, it could undermine teacher morale," Partney said. "We're just now building morale back up."

Stars find a new home in MCCAC

The news around the sports scene is usually pretty dull this time of year at Granite City Campus.

Besides club baseball, the only things going on are weight room exercises and a whole bunch of studying.

But this week, the Granite City Campus athletic program took a big step forward.

Beginning in the 1986-87 season, GCC will be an official member of the Midwest Community College Athletic Conference.

The Stars are the 10th team to enter the conference and the third from Illinois. The conference has been in existence for 15 years. The other member schools are Lewis and Clark, Belleville Area College, Florissant Valley, Forest Park, Meramec, East Central, Jefferson, Mineral Area and Three Rivers.

"It's a big step for us and we are excited about it," said Terry Collins, the school's athletic director and men's basketball coach. "This will help us solidify our identity."

Collins sees some direct benefits to GCC from conference affiliation.

"It's attractive for a couple of reasons," Collins said. "One, it will allow us to compete on a regular basis with some top level competition. It will also allow our athletes to show their wares, so to speak, against that competition."

On a national level, the MCCAC is no stranger to success. The Stars are no strangers to many of these schools as they have played them in the past.

In soccer, Florissant Valley has won nine national titles, including the last two. Lewis and Clark, which knocked the Stars out of the postseason, has been to the national tournament several times. The Stars finished fourth year third the year before and second two years ago.

In men's basketball, Three Rivers Community College in Poplar Bluff, Mo., is a state national champion. And, this year, Meramec advanced to the NJCAA finals tournament in Hutchinson, Kan.

In women's volleyball, Fio Valley finished fourth in the nation in 1978. Jefferson College is also a traditional national power.

In baseball, Meramec is usually mentioned somewhere in the national rankings.

It's a very well-rounded conference," Collins said.

Only the wrestling team will not be eligible to vie for the conference championship, because most MCCAC schools do not have a wrestling team.

Currently, Granite City Campus baseball is only classified as a "club" sport, but Collins is hopeful of making it a regular sport in the next few years.

The baseball coach is former Granite City High School graduate Kevin Sykes, also a standout at Peru State College in Nebraska.

While in high school, Sykes had a career .329 batting average from 1979-80. That mark ties him with Rick Daily for 16th place on the all-time list at Granite City.

In the two years Collins has been athletic director, the Stars' programs have been on the upswing.

Perhaps the only negative has been home attendance. During the past basketball season, for example, only a handful of fans saw the Stars play.

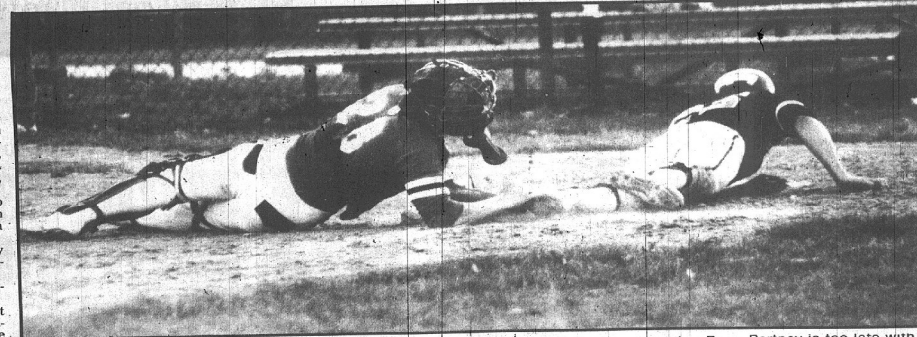

Maybe things will change. "Our conference will allow us to bring in some good national competition," Collins said. "It can be a benefit to our town. These teams will bring their fans who will spend money and eat in our restaurants."

GRANITE CITY — The baseball warriors' three-game winning streak came to a halt Tuesday afternoon.

That Granite City made four errors and scored the same number of runs. However, that proved to be a lethal combination. The numbers added up to a 4-4 loss to Hillsboro in a non-conference baseball game.

The Warriors slipped to 3-3 on the season. The Hilltoppers improved to 2-0.

"Our hitting was atrocious when we had runners on base," said Granite City Coach Bob Stegemeier.

Granite City managed just five hits against the "Toppers." The Warriors also left seven runners on base. However, the most alarming statistic was the strikeout. Warrior batters fanned seven times in the game.

"We were wild swingers," Stegemeier said. "There is no reason for that. We don't have many rookies or bad hitters in our lineup. We need to change out style of hitting. We just can't have (strikeouts) in our lineup."

Hillsboro wiped out a 2-0 Granite City lead and scored seven runs in the final four innings.

The Toppers got solid relief pitching from Eric Hobbie, who entered the game in the sixth inning. Hobbie got out of a two-on, one-out jam.

With one out, second baseman Dennis Gaudreault walked and stole second. Tim Hogan then reached on an error which allowed Gaudreault to advance to third base on the play.

Hobbie, however, pitched out of the inning by retiring Fred Becker and Todd Adamits, Granite City's 1-2 men in the batting order.

Granite City also threatened in the seventh inning.

Todd "Butch" Hinterser reached on an error when Topper center Mike Cerutti allowed a third

In the sixth inning, Hinterser made the defensive play of the game, taking a hit away from Hillsboro's Chad Compton with a diving catch to his right.

First baseman Steve Davis then coaxed a two-out walk, but Hobbie got Billy Moore, the designated hitter, to fly out to the shortstop, ending the game.

"We had a lot of people swinging on their heels," Stegemeier said. "We had problems identifying the curveball. We just didn't make any contact, or when we did, we hit it right at somebody."

The Warrior coach acknowledged that his players were swinging for the fences instead of just trying to put the ball into play.

The most telling statistic which backed up Stegemeier's claim was that Granite City hit only four ground balls in the game.

"They were even giving us the bunt down the third base line and we weren't taking it," he said. "We are going to work on bunting in practice."

While the Warriors couldn't hit the ball on the ground, the Hilltoppers did and benefitted from it.

On two different occasions, Granite City allowed Hillsboro an extra out on a bobbled ground ball. Each time the Toppers scored.

"We were getting the double play ground ball and sometimes only getting one out with it, or maybe none," Stegemeier said. "I don't think we were concentrating or planning ahead."

In the fourth inning, an error by third baseman Matt Roe was followed by a two-run triple by Hillsboro's Matt Huber. Todd Butler, the starting pitcher, then delivered a single which gave the Toppers a 5-2 lead.

The three-run fourth inning was all for Granite City starter Mark Bowen. He was replaced by Mike Georff.

He got off to a shaky start, giving up three hits and two runs before settling down. In the sixth inning, Georff fanned two of the four batters he faced.

Hillsboro led the game with two runs in the seventh. A wild throw allowed Stacy Thacker to reach safely. He scored on an RBI single by Rowdy Luck. The Toppers got their final run on a sacrifice fly by Larry Keiser.

After falling behind 1-0, Granite City scored two times in the bottom of the first.

Becker walked and stole second. He raced home on an RBI single by Adamits. Doug Partney scored Adamits with a fly ball to center field.

Granite City trimmed the Hillsboro lead to 5-3. Roe batted a triple to deep center field and scored on a delayed steal after

Crusaders crush Warriors

By Dave Whaley

GRANITE CITY — The Warriors' softball team scored two runs in the bottom of the first inning Wednesday to give them a 2-0 lead over Belleville Althoff.

But the Crusaders don't get mad, they just get even. And then some.

Althoff proceeded to score the next 26 runs and finished with a five-inning, 26-2 triumph over the Warriors, who fell to 0-3 on the season.

But Granite City Coach Jim Davis wasn't overly disappointed in the score. In some ways, he almost expected it.

"We're in a situation now where we're playing teams that have better athletes," he said. "I'll say it again. We want to play the toughest non-conference schedule we can get ready for conference play."

The Crusaders were a pretty tough foe, banging out 14 hits in five innings, most of them solid hits. Still, the final score wouldn't have been as ugly were it not for shaky — and that's putting it mildly — Warrior defense.

They made eight errors in the second inning alone when Althoff scored 10 runs with the help of only three hits.

Sophomore right-hander Tammy LeVault was the victim of the poor support although she made two of the errors herself.

"If we catch and throw the ball well, the score isn't so bad," Davis said. "Tammy really didn't do too badly on the mound. She has improved 100 percent from her freshman year. I think she was happy with her performance when she came out."

Davis used LeVault longer than he might normally have gone with a starter, but he wanted to see what she could do. He knows he will need more than just Amy Moss on the mound when the schedule gets heavier.

"We're experimenting right now," he said. "That's why we also used Karen (Sykes) to pitch at the end."

If the Crusaders weren't ready

Devils all smiles after 15-5 triumph

By Gary King

Staff writer

VENICE — If there's one thing that makes Clinton Harris happy, it's a big win. So it was not surprising that the Venice baseball coach was all smiles Wednesday afternoon.

The Red Devils opened their season by posting a convincing victory over Worden Wednesday, downing the Trojans 15-5 at Eagle Park.

The Venice offensive attack was led by Dale Turner, who had a home run, double and two singles; and Wilfred Wigfall, who also homered and added a pair of singles.

Terry Wiley and Carl Townsend were also instrumental in the win, as each added a pair of singles for the Red Devils.

Venice opened up what was a close game in the early going by scoring four runs in the fifth, and five more in the sixth inning to put the game out of reach.

Wigfall picked up the win for his squad, as the junior left-hander pitched five strong innings before giving way to Orlando Love in the sixth.

Youth seems to be the key word for this year's Venice team, as they rely on only four players: Love, Turner, Wigfall and Tyrone Treadway from last season's 5-11 squad. Harris feels that the lack of experience could hurt his club, but he remains hopeful that they can improve on last year's mark.

"This is a young and inexperienced team. We've got mostly sophomores and juniors this year, and a lot of these kids haven't played much organized baseball. I'm just hoping that the young guys can gain some experience, and we can have a decent season," said Harris.

Although he was forced to alter his lineup somewhat Wednesday due to the fact that several of his players had failed to get their physical examination on time, Harris said he planned to start Treadway behind the plate; Love at first base; Mike Hogan at second; Turner at shortstop and Wiley at third.

Others whom Harris will be relying on are Derrick Wise, who figures to see action on the infield, and utility outfielders Earl Reed and Frank Gleason. When he's not pitching, Harris stated that Wigfall could also see action at first base.

The Red Devils pitching remains a question mark, as they have only two bona fide starters according to Harris. Wigfall and Love seem most of the starting duties this year, while Craig Freeman is slated to be Venice's primary reliever.

"Despite the fact that they will be playing a 'tough schedule' this season, Harris thinks that his squad should be able to win at least half of their contests."

Warriors

Davis, who had walked, was thrown out at second base. The Warriors got their final run in the fifth. Dueser reached on an error, stole second and scored on Roe's third hit of the game. Roe, a senior co-captain, had three of Granite City's five hits. The others were a single by Adamitis and a double by Gaudreault.

But the lack of hitting was only part of the Warriors' problems. "Our defense really concerns me," Stegemeier said. "We don't have the strikeout pitcher. We have to make the other team hit and we have to play good defense. If we don't come up with the play we are in trouble."

Granite City will have a chance to right itself beginning Thursday, but it won't be an easy task. The Warriors will play eight games in the next five days. Granite City has doubleheaders with Belleville East on Thursday, Providence New Lenox on Friday, Beavir Burkant on Saturday and Collinsville on Monday. All of the games are at home.

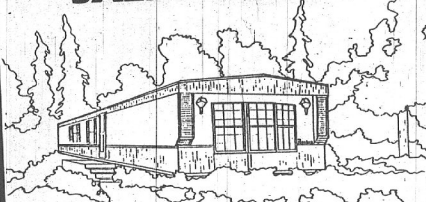

Warrior fans will likely see the first start of righthander Eric Gray against the Lancers. The first game starts at 4 p.m. In the doubleheaders against East and Collinsville, only the first game will be counted in the Southwestern Conference standings.

Speedway holds test runs

By Joe Senter
GRANITE CITY — It was a time for a little fun Easter Sunday at Tri-City Speedway. While the racers were readying their cars for the annual test runs, kids through age 12 were busy with the Easter Bunny finding the eggs drivers had hidden in the grass. The test runs allowed drivers to prepare all types of cars for the 1986 racing season at Tri-City Speedway. Among the vehicles on hand were sprint cars, late model stock cars, mighty midgets, sportsman's cars, modifieds, street stocks, go-karts and dune buggies.

Some of the drivers who took advantage included Kenny Schrader, the 1985 NASCAR Rookie of the Year. Mike Wallace was there in his late model Firebird. Wallace of Arnold, Mo., is the brother of NASCAR Grand National Stock Car driver Rusty Wallace. Danny Frye was driving the Gus Sobom's mighty midget and sprint car. John Ritche was in his winged sprint car. Dick Taylor drove his late model stock car. Arnie, Steve and Art Knepper tested out their mighty midgets, as did Pepi Marchessie. Also present were John Seits and Bobby Bisellie from the Allied Auto Racing Association. Also test driving their cars were two women drivers. Tammy Bargett and Sharon Rhoads. Tri-City Speedway promoter Ken Keen will open the regular season on Saturday, April 5 with UMP Late Model Stock Cars, Sportsman's and Street Stock each week. Beginning Sunday, April 6, mighty midgets, street stocks and sportsman's cars will race each week through April. On April 11-12 Tri-City will host the World of Outlaw Sprint Cars.

SIU Cougars sweep doubleheader

By Al Barnes
Staff writer
EDWARDSVILLE — Pete Delkus, the 6-2, 200-pound sidearm pitcher for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team did what he does best Tuesday.

He came off the bench to play a key role as the Cougars romped over the Panthers of Eastern Illinois University in a doubleheader. Delkus won the first game 5-4 and posted a save in the nightcap, a 6-3 Cougar triumph.

The wins ran Coach Gary Collins' team's winning streak to seven and pushed their mark to 12-4 on the year.

John Groenert of New Baden held the EIU hitters to a 4-4 tie through five innings before Delkus, of Collinsville, came on in relief and turned back the Panthers without a hit.

He got the win when, with the bases loaded in the final inning, another Collinsville native, Steve Blumner, drew a walk, forcing in the winning tally. The big hitter for the Cougars in the game was Tony Duenas, the 6-6 first baseman-pitcher, who was 3 for 4. Granite City's Daren DePew, who has handled most of the catching duties for SIUE, singled in the fourth inning to cut EIU's lead to 4-2 and his throw in the second inning helped close down a Panther rally.

In the second game, Duenas appeared headed for his third straight two-hit shutout, but after getting the leadoff man in the sixth, the stylish lefty appeared to tire and walked a batter before giving up a home run to Bernie Hollan.

Duenas' big bat again proved decisive in the second game as he drove in a pair of runs. Sharing hitting honors with Duenas was Bob Froelichstein, whose first-pitch single to center in the second gave SIUE a 2-0 lead. Kent Vartanian collected a pair of doubles and a single.

Edwardsville's Dave Vieth, who gave DePew a rest behind the plate, had a 2 for 3 day. Rich Plecher was 3 for 1 and also had a sacrifice fly to drive in a run. SIUE is off to its best start in history. However, they will need 10 more wins to match the 1970 team's 17 in a row. They'll play Quincy College in a doubleheader Friday and Southwest Missouri in another twinnbill Saturday.

Local fighters perform at St. Louis Golden Gloves

ST. LOUIS — Two Tri-City area fighters did well at the St. Louis Golden Gloves competition last weekend.

Terry Davis, 14, of Granite City, became the Sub-novice champion in the 119-pound division by defeating Leron Dillworth of 22nd & Park on Friday. Davis also defeated Antonio Davidson of Wellston in the semifinals the week before.

Errol Collie lost a 4-1 decision in the finals of the 125-pound Novice Division to Larry Temple of Mathews-Dickey. Collie, 22, had earlier beaten Temple, who finished third in the National Junior Olympic Tournament.

Collie had defeated Cornelius Harris of Whole Center and Mark Valtire of North County in earlier rounds of the Golden Gloves.

Davis will now move on to the Ozark Championships of the Junior Olympics April 26-27 at the ABC Field House in St. Ann, Mo. Semifinal bouts will start Saturday at 7:30 p.m., with the finals Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Winners there will advance to the regionals and then the nationals in May.

Roger Bloodworth of Granite City also announced the finals of the Open Division will be held April 12 at Kiel Auditorium. Bloodworth will be working with Nick Kokouris, a 139-pound boxer who is ranked No. 1 in the country. Kokouris was a champion at the National Sports Festival and is the North American Continental champion. He was third in World Cup competition.

Teams are needed for a preseason women's slow-pitch softball tournament to be held at the Mitchell Athletic Club field April 19-20.

The sponsors of the tournament are the Granite City Merchants and the Wood River Royals. It will be a three-game guarantee. Entry fee is $55. The deadline for the first 12 teams is April 12. For more information, call Don Loyde at 931-1404 or Tony at 931-4586.

Brownie troop hosts programs

The second grade Brownie troop from Mitchell School celebrated National Girl Scout Week with a variety of activities.

"At the weekly meeting a balloon launch was enjoyed. The multi-colored balloons were released under the guidance of troop leaders and a special guest, School Principal Art Menendez.

Inside each balloon was a personalized note with the name of a Troop 323 Brownie. The girls are hoping to receive replies from the finders of their balloons.

Many of the Brownies attended the annual Neighborhoods skating party held at Stardust Skating Rink in Pontoon Beach.

Completing the week was attendance at a live operatic performance of "Hansel and Gretel" in the Communications Building at SIUE.

Under the supervision of co-leaders Kris Hamilton, Robin Rinehart, Vera Bloomquist, Janet Timmons and Diana Ryan, the troop conducted a surprise baby shower for troop leader Kathy Schilling. The theme, including table appointments, was Teddy Bears.

A special cake was supplied by Colleen Bringer. Baby shower games were played by the Brownies and prizes were awarded.

Participating were Jessica Appony, Mary Beth Bloomquist, Michelle Bringer, Melinda Colbert, Christi Castile, Theresa Dames, Venessa Duckett, Leslie Davis, Lori Gaudette, Nicole Hamilton, Jamie Dummitt, Shelly Green, Valerie Matlock, Dena Mayes, Jennifer Neidhardt, Mandy Rots, Christina Ragan, Danielle Rinehart, Hillary Ryan, Trisha Sumpter, Stacy San Soucie, Hillary Sanders, Amy Schilling, Amanda Timmons and Jill Wozniak.
